

REVENUE MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS, LLC (RMS) ACQUIRES THE HEALTHCARE MEDRX BUSINESS UNIT FROM CRITICAL TECHNOLOGIES, INC.

(Oklahoma City, Oklahoma) Revenue Management Solutions, LLC (RMS) announced today the acquisition of the MedRx® healthcare industry business unit from Critical Technologies, Inc. The terms of the acquisition were not disclosed. The MedRx® business unit will broaden RMS' existing innovative offering that is a hosted service providing comprehensive processing of healthcare receivables.

"The selling of the MedRx® business was a strategic move for Critical Technologies allowing us to focus on our core businesses, our ASP document management services and our mortgage processing business (mVault)," voiced Patrick Castleberry – President of Critical Technologies. "RMS has built a very impressive healthcare receivables organization and the acquisition of MedRx® business unit from Critical is just another step in RMS' commitment to the healthcare industry."

In discussing the acquisition, Tom Dean the CEO of RMS commented, "The MedRx® business unit is a great fit to the existing healthcare platform. We are a young company in the middle of our Series A capital funding program. Our investors located in Lafayette, Louisiana share our commitment to provide the premier revenue receivable management solution for the healthcare industry and the MedRx® acquisition is proof of that commitment," noted Tom. "RMS has built depth in the organization by hiring experienced healthcare professionals. Helped by the acquisition of the MedRx® business unit, our innovative technology platform and related services will make RMS an industry leader in the healthcare market space."

About Critical Technologies

Now in its twelfth year, privately held Critical Technologies provides hosted and licensed solutions for complex document management challenges. One financial-services customer uses the iMagio® ASP service to manage one of the world's largest private databases, about 180 billion rows, with two- to three million new documents added daily.

About RMS, LLC
